

Gender-based Violence in East and Southern Africa Organisational Profile

Raising Voices (www.raisingvoices.org) and UN-Habitat (www.unhabitat.org/safercities) are undertaking a field review of organizations and institutions working to prevent gender-based violence in East and Southern Africa. The aim is to create networks and alliances between those working on GBV and to produce a publication that highlights successful and effective approaches of preventing GBV in the region. We very much appreciate your participation!
