

NOMINATION APPLICATION — REEBOK HUMAN RIGHTS AWARD

PURPOSE OF AWARD

Established in 1988, the Reebok Human Rights Award honours young people from the United States and around the world who have made significant contributions to the cause of human rights, often against great odds. The purpose of the Award is to shine a positive, international light on the awardees and to support their work in human rights. A $50,000 grant is given to further the work of each Award recipient.

ELIGIBILITY FOR AWARD

Award candidates must be 30 years of age or younger by December 31, 2002. Award candidates cannot advocate violence or belong to an organization that advocates violence. Award candidates must be working on an issue that directly relates to the United Nations Universal Declaration of Human Rights. Women and men of all races, ethnic groups, nationalities and religions are eligible. The Award is given to an individual, based on that individual's personal achievement and commitment. It is not given to groups of people, organizations, or as a memorial award to people who have died.

GUIDELINES FOR NOMINATIONS

A complete nomination includes the following:

- Application form (Please print the application form below and complete it.)
- Letter of nomination
- Three letters of reference for the candidate, in addition to the nomination letter (Letters of recommendation should highlight why the individual is being recommended for the award and how long the nominator has been aware of the individual's contributions.
