(2) When the person in question has been arrested under the said warrant, he or she may be detained thereunder before the magistrate who issued it or in any prison or lock-up or other place of detention or in the custody of the person who is in charge of him or her, with a view to securing the person's presence as a witness at the confirmation proceedings, or such magistrate may release him or her on a recognizance, with or without sureties, for his or her appearance to give evidence as required and for his or her appearance at the inquiry mentioned in subsection (3).

(3) The magistrate may in a summary manner inquire into the said person's failure to obey the subpoena or to remain in attendance, and unless it is proved that the said person had a reasonable excuse for such failure, the magistrate may sentence him or her to a fine not exceeding level three or to imprisonment for a period not exceeding one month or to both such fine and such imprisonment.

(4) Any person sentenced by a magistrate to a fine or imprisonment in terms of subsection (3) shall have the same right of appeal as if he or she had been convicted and sentenced by a magistrates court in a criminal trial.

(2) If a person referred to in subsection (1), upon being brought up upon the adjourned hearing, again refuses to do what is so required of him or her, the magistrate may, if he or she sees fit, again adjourn the proceedings, and by order commit him or her for a like period and so again from time to time until such person consents to do what is required of him or her.

(3) An appeal shall lie from any order of committal in terms of subsection (1) or (2) to the Supreme Court, which may make such order on the appeal as to it seems just.

(4) Nothing in this section shall prevent the magistrate from confirming the accused's statement in the meantime according to any other sufficient evidence taken by him or her.
